AFC Industries has acquired EAP International Limited, a leading distributor of rubber sealing products, including O-rings, gaskets, and associated technical products, based in Greater Manchester, UK. Terms of the deal were not disclosed.

EAP will be combined with AFC's European business, TFC and will strengthen TFC's position as a leading provider of technical engineering products. The two businesses have a clear synergy in customer base and commitment to delivering quality products supported by customer service excellence. There has always been strong demand for sealing products across UK manufacturers. Bringing EAP under TFC will help us better serve our UK manufacturing customers, supplying seals directly from an in-house UK source.

Headquartered in Fairfield OH, AFC Industries is a dynamic organization dedicated to providing supply chain management solutions on small components and tooling for a diverse base of manufacturers and assemblers across a broad range of industries. Through its experienced team and global resources, AFC excels at making customer manufacturing and assembly processes more efficient and cost-effective.
